My Children, do not be shaken, as I am pouring My anointing, truth and understanding upon you. I have been and am still working with you spiritually. I Am also bringing it to your consciousness now. The hour has come for those that are Mine to grow, to have things revealed to them now.

No you will not have all of the answers now and that is okay, do not worry about completely understanding the what, and how of things, as it is your trust, and faith in Me that matters the most.

There is a great out pouring of My Holy Spirit, My anointing and there is a great awakening happening in those that are mine.

Those that have had eyes to see, ears to hear and hearts to receive are receiving great anointing and understanding. Those that had not are now being awakened, and are now understanding My truth more than they had before.

There are children stepping up, professing My word, telling of the dreams, visions and messages they have received from Me without fear.

There are people of all ages that before would say "Yes I know the Lord will come, some day," that are now saying "He is coming now."

There is a great out pouring right now on all nations, in and through all peoples as it is written that there would be an out pouring of My Spirit and things would be revealed that were sealed in these days.

As this, truly is a sign of My coming, that the time of your exit from this earth is near, there is great fear in the camp of the enemy.

The enemy, and the evil ones know scripture very well and thought that if they hid things, changed things and mixed things up and confused even time that they could keep My sheep from Me.

Well, My sheep do know My voice, My children, every soul that I have made has My words written on them and I will not lose even one.

The enemy and the evil ones are shaking in their boots now, right now as My people are turning away from them now too and there is not a thing they can do about it.

My Children have heard My voice, they are answering My call and are receiving more of My Spirit every moment. Do not let this shake you, do not fear, or hesitate.

Come to Me, stay within Me and I will take you through, if you are not sure of something come to Me I will show you and help you to understanding.

I Am with you always, stay close My loves, stay close and do not be shaken as I Am your foundation, I Am your rock, and I will never leave or forsake you.
